A good assignment.
You have explained what race condition is, you have explained two possible (and relevant) race conditions for an e-voting solution, and represented good solutions for both of them.

Might there also be possible to other than Bill (an attacker) to exploit for instance TOCTTOU and log in to his account?

You do not have any references. I think it could be advatageous refering to a scientific article or a book to support your conclusions.

Mark: Pass :)
